

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

FRIDAY, April 3, 1863.

FOR PRESIDENT, ULYSSES S. GRANT.

Chief Justice Chase.

It seems to us that there is an undue sensitiveness in regard to Chief Justice Chase as the presiding officer of the Senate during the trial of the President. The Boston Advertiser justly remarks that the question has been raised in some quarters as though it involved the assumption of some extraordinary control by him over the proceedings of the court, or as though he claimed the right of enforcing the rules of some other court over a body which has lately been in this matter a rule unto itself. But Mr. Chase has never assumed anything of the sort. His claim was simply to the right of deciding in the first instance, and subject to correctness by the Senate,—not of concluding any question by his decision. With the question narrowed to this point, as it was by the explicit statement of the Chief Justice on Tuesday, it is not easy to see the grounds for an extraordinary sensitiveness manifested as to the rights and dignity of the Senate.

IMPEACHMENT.

The Court of Impeachment convened at the usual hour and in the usual number yesterday. Immediately after the reading of the journal of the previous day's proceedings, Mr. Sumner submitted a document setting forth that it appeared from the journal that the Chief Justice had given a casting vote in a case where the Senate was divided and declining that, in the judgment of the Senate, such vote was without authority of the Constitution. Mr. Sumner demanded the yeas and nays on this question, and the vote resulted, yeas 21, nays 27, thus suspending the Chief Justice's right to vote.

Mr. Butler attempted to renew the examination of Mr. Burliegh relative to a conversation which that gentleman had with Gen. Thomas regarding the War Office, but Mr. Stumberg objected to the admission of such testimony. He sustained his objection by an argument, which Mr. Butler replied. Mr. Curtis answered Mr. Butler, and Mr. Bigelow also spoke on the subject. At the conclusion of the debate the Court decided to admit the testimony. Objection having been made to a portion of the testimony, the Chief Justice sustained the objection, but the Senate overruled the decision and admitted the testimony. Samuel Wilkeson was then examined, and testified that Gen. Thomas told him he intended to obtain possession of the War Department by force if necessary. Mr. Karsner testified to substantially the same facts as did Mr. Wilkeson, after which the court adjourned.

The Chase Movement.

The Catholic Telegraph of Cincinnati comes out for Chief Justice Chase for the Presidency. It argues that Mr. Chase's policy upon all national questions, except the negro question, is identical with that of the Democratic party, and adds, perhaps, explaining its own position, that "from his first entrance into public life he has been distinguished as a warm, active and efficient friend of the foreign elements, always advocating speedy and unrestricted naturalization." Upon financial questions, the Telegraph admits that Judge Chase's theory is not quite in accord with that of the Democracy of the West and Northwest, but insists that it is perfectly so with that of the Eastern and Middle States. "He does not advocate the payment of the five-twenty bonds in either gold or greenbacks now." His theory is strict economy in the administration of national affairs, sweeping cuttings in the public expenditures, and a continuous reduction of the public debt, thus increasing the value of our paper currency; all with a view to a speedy resumption of specie payment, which can be accomplished only by making a paper dollar equal in value to a gold dollar."

Cruelty to Animals.

A great many people have ridiculed Mr. Henry Bergh for his efforts to prevent cruelty to animals in New York. But he has persevered in his purpose, and aided by some of the best men in that city has accomplished a good work. His example has already so far commended itself to others that a Society for the "Prevention of Cruelty to Animals" has just been incorporated in Massachusetts similar to that in New York. It embraces some of the best names in the commonwealth, and it is proven as efficient as it may, will be the occasion of some sweeping reforms. That State has been disgraced within a year or two by several desperate matches against time which have resulted, not in the death of the owners and drivers but of the far nobler animals which were driven. It is also suggested that the Boston Society will also do well to keep a watchful eye upon the numerous cattle trains constantly arriving at Brighton, Cambridge, and the other neighboring markets. Even if we care only for human comfort and safety, and the inviolability of our own precious persons and property, it is well to consider that the torture of animals brutalizes those who practice it, and renders them unsafe members of society. The boy in Hogarth's "Four Stages of Cruelty," who began by torturing dogs, ended by murdering his mistress. Massachusetts has already had excellent laws against cruelty to animals; but only those whose private property was injured, or who were accidental spectators of some revolting act, have had any interest in the enforcement of the statutes; and this is a neglect or indifference which the new Society will be likely to remedy or remove.

Catholics. About seven hundred new Methodist churches were built and dedicated in the United States last year. This was an average of two church's each day, Sundays included. It is said that this denomination was never enjoying a higher prosperity than at present.

The British army advances upon Thessaly at the alarming rate of four miles a week.

MIDDLEBURY, April 1, 1863.

At a town meeting held in Middletown, the following offices were chosen:

Scalor. —Jehro Peckham.
Representative. —Thomas Coggeshall.
Moderator. —John Gould Esq.
Town Clerk. —Joshua Coggeshall.

The following are Town Council, Court of Probate, and Overseers of the Poor:

1. George C. Coggeshall, 2. Benjamin Wyat, 3. William F. Peckham, 4. Augustus Peckham, 5. Francis Talbot.

Justice of the Peace. —Nathaniel Peckham, John Gould, George A. Brown, George C. Coggeshall.

School Committee. —John Gould, Jethro Peckham, Robinson P. Barker, E. Truman Peckham, Collector of Taxes —William Smith.

Town Sergeant. —Gardiner T. Sloane, Collector of Weights and Measures —George A. Bunn.

Supervisors of Highway. —District No 1 Robert S. Chase, Jr. No. 2 John H. Whitehouse, No. 3 Henry C. Chase, No. 4 William Smith, No. 5 George Harrington, No. 6 Nathaniel Peckham, No. 7 Thomas P. Peckham.

Auctioneers. —John Gould, Nathaniel Peckham.

Auditors. —Daniel Chase, George A. Bunn, John Peckham.

Funerary Viewers. —Thomas Coggeshall, James Wyat, John M. Anthony.

Assessors of Taxes. —George A. Bunn, James E. Wyat, Nathaniel Peckham, Stephen P. Barker, William C. Allen.

Surveyors of Land. —George A. Bunn, Daniel Smith.

Committee on Cemetery. —George Anthony, William F. Peckham, Joseph P. Barker, Jethro Peckham, Robinson P. Barker.

Town Tax of 10 cts. on a hundred dollars.

Army Foot. —Among the many jokes connected with April fool's day the Providence Herald reports the following:

One of the College Faculty was victimized largely on April fool's day by the facetious students under his charge. In the course of the afternoon, a furniture wagon, four or five express wagons, the Attleboro stage, a quantity of beans, a load of shavings and a physician, all made their appearance at his room, in response to very urgent orders originating with the trifling followers of the Muses. Curses, "not I but sleep," and not to be repeated to ears polite, rent the still air of delightful studies, "as Milton would call it; and neither the "Professor" nor the other victims of the joke would relish a repetition thereof.

Spiritualism. —At the twentieth anniversary of Spiritualism Dr. Gardner said, "I was claimed that there were now 11,000,000 of spiritualists in the United States but this he doubted, although it would perhaps, be too low a figure, if of who had the faith he had, were to avow it?" Then the sale of the Moravian Chapel and dwelling house will take place to-morrow, Saturday at 12 o'clock M.

Garden Seeds. —Best stock in the city, at Wilson's Fruit Bazaar.

The Election. —Republican newspapers abroad think we did well in our State election Wednesday. We had been so quiet before the election that many of them thought we were likely to be caught napping. They are now convinced to the contrary.

New Standard. —The election returns from this town show the following result:

Burnside 81; Stevens 89; for Pierce 73; Durfee 71. The remainder of the ticket stand 81 to 79. The present Republican members of the Assembly were re-elected without opposition—Nicholas Ball, Senator; John G. Sheldell, Representative.

Cong., Gozo, Gosa. —The chignon, the praline, elevated, crowning and once called becoming chignon is now rarely seen in fashionable life. Curls, short and long, are in favor. Perhaps they should not be called curls: they resemble more the brush of a fox, small at the end and increasing in width as you ascend. Of course they are arranged to suit the pleasure of the wearer. We have no disposition to ridicule the fashion—it's strict devotees are ridiculous enough without this added assistance!

One of the audience assembled to hear the arguments before an important committee of the Assembly at Albany last week said that the members of the committee looked as though they had a bias in their minds. "It all depends," answered another, "whether you spell it bitter or sugar."

A Good Recruit. —The Taunton Gazette mentions a fact highly creditable to Mr. Edward W. Potter, of that city. Since the war he has given employment in his establishment to fifty-four soldiers, and twenty-one remain in his employ. Many of these were taken in and taught the trade, their disabilities forbidding them to learn others of a more laborious nature. Among the list were one who lost a leg, one shot through the head, the ball entering over the ear and coming out at the mouth; two with an arm shattered, three shot through the leg, one with shoulder shattered and several others wounded in various parts of the body.

Amuse or Gamblers. —A posse of State constables made a descent on a well known gambling house on Market street, in Lynn, on Saturday night, and arrested some thirty persons, including the keeper of the house, John B. Granger. All of them were engaged in gambling. Some resistance was offered, when the officers drew their revolvers and the gamblers yielded to arrest.

Gen. Barry. —commanding the Artillery School at Fortress Monroe, has issued an order prohibiting the sale of liquors within the limits of his command. It is believed that this order will have the effect to close the Hygeia Hotel.

Warren.

At the election in this town on Wednesday there was no choice for Representative.

An adjourned town meeting was held next day when the Democrats gave up the contest, and Henry F. Drown, Republican, was elected by acclamation.

Fast Day. —Massachusetts observed yesterday as her annual Fast.

Mr. Wm. B. Astor pays city taxes to the amount of $25,000.

The Ku Klux Klan is said to have established itself at Phillipsburg, N. J.

It is a sort of poetic justice that as "Moses" deserted the blacks, one of the blacks has in turn deserted "Moses."

"Ball Run" Russell has written a novel, it is said to be better done than his earlier works of fiction as written in America.

LAW DELEGATION. —The New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church has just closed its session adopted a strong report against law delegation. The laymen themselves voted the same way when the question was submitted to them a few years since.

Queen Victoria proposes to visit Germany in the autumn.

About Home.

The Newport Journal is published this evening. Specimen numbers to those who have not had an opportunity to examine it may be had free, by calling at the office No. 13 church St. It is the cheapest news paper in Rhode Island and is rapidly extending its circulation both in this city and the surrounding towns. Price $1.50 a year, in advance.

The Coming Season. —It is probable that the coming season is to be a favorable one for our city. The number of cottages already leased for the summer is unusually large, and they are still in great demand. It is not likely that there will be so great a number of European visitors as during the past few years, and our home watering places will enjoy the benefit of the change. Our real estate agents are kept busy in furnishing homes for such as desire to spend the season here, and the prospects for the summer hotels is also very good.

The Mayoralty. —In addition to the gentlemen named yesterday for the office of mayor we hear that there are several other "Richmonds" in the field. S. T. Melville is urged by his friends for the position, and John A. Peckham, Wm. J. Swinhorne and Wm. G. Peckham are also brought forward as suitable candidates. We are happy to know that there is to be no lack of honorable names before the people, from whom a selection can be made.

SILAS. —Shad have made their appearance plentifully as far up as Dighton. They are now freely offered in the Providence market.

Lead Plants. —Aratus, Callas, Rose Bushes, &c. &c. For sale cheap at Wilson's Fruit & Flower Bazaar.

A Great Event! —The auction sale of crockery, china and cutlery commences today at Aquidneck Hall, and every housekeeper should attend it. All the goods are to be sold positively without reserve, and the stock is an immense one.

Private Sales. —Sales in the morning. Seats provided for ladies. Goods packed for country purchasers free of charge.

The sale of the Moravian Chapel and dwelling house will take place to-morrow, Saturday at 12 o'clock M.

HEALTHY ! HAPPY !
AND HUNGRY !

Well, reader! don't you think it's pretty comfortable sort of a feeling? Now you just keep on reading and you will find out what it is that brings those three blessings right into your life, and when you keep them there, don't think our remedy if you don't keep them there.

HEALTHY ! HAPPY !
Good health! What life without it? How sweet every joy and double every pleasure.—
THE HEALTHY AND THE HAPPY, is what you must have before you can enjoy anything.

What is the Use
Often the life becomes a burden of care, and the individual with affliction with its blessing becomes you for some continued pain in your body or elsewhere, while others, well and delighted with yours, feel everybody else.

How Can You be Happy
under such circumstances?

THEN, AGAIN,
What sense is there in sitting down day after day to a good dinner that you wife has worked hard all the time to get up for you, and finding that while the house is clean the food is an unwholesome mess and you eat it? You had rather go to sleep than try to eat anything?

THE FACT IS,
You are not hungry, and you feel as though you would exchange many things now to be able to sit down and eat.

Good Square Meal,
Just as you did when you were HEALTHY, HAPPY, and HUNGRY boy.

How you feel!

HOW TO GET BETTER,
Are rather sick up. You fancy you have got to go to the Doctor and get a prescription, and then go home and lie down and take a long nap to let half your woes over and have a general sort of a two-day attack. You need not do anything of the kind to be healthy.

Healthy, Happy and Hungry,
Because you can just go to the

APOTHECARY or Grocery Store at the corner, and get a bottle of C. A. RICHARDS & CO'S SONOMA WINE BITTERS,

And you're then done just the right thing, and you feel fit, happy and feeling, and make a new man of you. You don't save it all for yourself, but there's still a good deal left.

PICTURE IT Around,
Give it to your wife, beat it out to the children, send it to the Doctor, and take it down town to your office. It won't cost you much, and it will help you out and make your heart feel better, there is but very little spirit left, no more than there is in any native wine, plants and roots with which the bitters have a wonderful power to make you HUNGRY.
